Section 2 – Auditor Instructions

Purpose

The purpose of this internal audit is to evaluate the effectiveness of the company's Occupational Health and Safety Management System (OHSMS), verify compliance with BCCSA COR requirements, and identify opportunities for continual improvement.

This audit is intended to measure how effectively the safety management system is being implemented in the field—not simply whether documentation exists.

Auditor Responsibilities

The auditor shall:

- Remain objective and impartial throughout the audit.
- Verify information using interviews, observations, and documentation.
- Base conclusions on objective evidence rather than assumptions or opinions.
- Record findings accurately and completely.
- Maintain confidentiality of interview responses.
- Focus on identifying opportunities for improvement rather than assigning blame.

Audit Method

Each COR element should be evaluated using three sources of evidence:

1. Documentation Review

Verify that required documentation exists, is current, and has been completed correctly.

Examples include:

- Health & Safety Policy
- Safe Work Practices
- Safe Job Procedures
- Daily Field Level Hazard Assessments (FLHAs)
- Toolbox Talks
- Training Records
- Equipment Inspection Records
- Incident Investigation Reports
- Emergency Response Plans
- Maintenance Records
- Orientation Records

2. Employee Interviews

Interview employees to determine whether they understand the company's safety program and how it applies to their work.

The objective is to confirm that workers and supervisors understand:

- Their responsibilities
- Workplace hazards
- Safe work procedures
- Emergency procedures
- Incident reporting requirements

- Company safety expectations

3. Workplace Observations

Observe work activities to determine whether company policies and procedures are being followed.

Compare what is observed in the field with:

- Written procedures
- Interview responses
- Company records

All three sources should support one another.

Interview Guidelines

Interview employees individually whenever possible.

Avoid interviewing workers in front of supervisors or managers.

Ask each question exactly as written.

Allow the interviewee sufficient time to answer without interruption.

Do not suggest or coach answers.

If clarification is required, ask follow-up questions without leading the interviewee.

Record responses using the interviewee's own words whenever practical.

Evidence Verification

Interview responses should be supported by objective evidence whenever possible.

Examples include:

- ☐ Policies
- ☐ Procedures
- ☐ Training records
- ☐ Inspection reports
- ☐ Equipment records
- ☐ Photographs
- ☐ Worker observations
- ☐ Demonstrations
- ☐ Supervisor confirmation

Observation Guidelines

Observe normal work activities without directing workers.

Verify that:

- Workers follow established procedures.
- Hazards are identified and controlled.
- Required PPE is worn correctly.
- Equipment is inspected before use.
- Housekeeping is maintained.
- Supervisors actively monitor work.

Identifying Non-Conformances

A non-conformance exists when there is evidence that the health and safety management system is not being implemented as required.

Examples include:

- Required documentation is missing.
- Documentation is incomplete or outdated.
- Workers cannot explain required procedures.
- Safe work procedures are not being followed.
- Hazards have not been assessed.
- Corrective actions remain outstanding.
- Required training has not been completed.

Writing Findings

Findings should be:

- Objective
- Clear
- Specific
- Supported by evidence
- Free of assumptions

Good Example:

Workers operating mobile equipment had completed daily inspections; however, inspection forms for two forklifts were incomplete and lacked operator signatures.

Poor Example:

Equipment inspections are bad.

Corrective Actions

Each non-conformance should include:

- Description of the issue
- Applicable COR element
- Applicable company procedure or regulatory requirement
- Recommended corrective action
- Person responsible
- Completion date
- Verification of completion

Auditor Tips

- Ask open-ended questions.
- Listen more than you speak.
- Verify, do not assume.
- Follow the evidence.
- Compare interviews with observations.
- Compare observations with documentation.
- Record facts immediately.
- Photograph deficiencies where appropriate.
- Maintain a professional and respectful approach.

Remember

The purpose of an internal COR audit is not to find fault with individuals.

Its purpose is to determine whether the Occupational Health and Safety Management System is functioning as intended and to identify opportunities for continual improvement before the external COR audit.
